

Risk Warning

Publication Date: August 28, 2024

This Risk Warning ("Warning") provides you with general information about the risks associated with the Services available through the website <https://cryptodao.axiom-wm.com/>.

Please read this Warning carefully.

By using the Services, you agree to this Warning and acknowledge that it is legally binding upon you.

If you do not agree with any of the terms of this Warning or if the Warning conflicts with the laws of your jurisdiction, you agree not to use the Services; otherwise, you may be held responsible for any losses and expenses incurred as a result of non-compliance with these requirements, both to us and to third parties.

Nature of Services Provided

We do not offer personalized recommendations regarding our products or Services. In some instances, we may provide factual data, clarify transaction procedures, or describe potential risks. However, the decision to use our products or Services is entirely yours. Any communication or information provided by Axiom should not be considered or interpreted as investment advice, financial guidance, trading recommendations, or any other form of direction. You are solely responsible for determining whether any investments, investment strategies, or related transactions align with your individual investment objectives, financial situation, and risk tolerance.

Axiom does not act as your broker, intermediary, agent, or advisor, and no fiduciary relationship or obligation exists between you and Axiom concerning any transactions, decisions, or actions you undertake using our Services. We do not oversee whether your use of the Services aligns with your financial goals. You are responsible for assessing whether your financial resources are appropriate for the financial activities you engage in with us, and for evaluating your risk tolerance concerning the products and Services you use.

Activities Related to Cryptocurrencies

Participation in activities related to cryptocurrency transactions within the framework of the Services carries significant risks of complete loss of funds and other assets exchanged for cryptocurrency. These risks arise from factors such as the volatility of cryptocurrency values, technical failures, and the potential for illegal activities such as theft.

The legal framework governing cryptocurrency transactions is inconsistent, and the consequences of such transactions may vary depending on the jurisdiction.

Trading cryptocurrencies and participating in blockchain-based projects involve significant risks. When using our Services, you assume all associated risks. Cryptocurrency prices can experience substantial fluctuations within short periods due to factors such as supply and demand, cryptocurrency market news, and regulatory changes. Users must be prepared for potential financial losses due to cryptocurrency volatility.

Participation in Cryptocurrency Staking

Participation in cryptocurrency staking involves certain risks, including the potential loss of your deposit due to fluctuations in cryptocurrency prices. It is crucial to fully understand the staking mechanism and associated risks before making any investment decisions. Speculating in cryptocurrencies can lead to financial losses due to the unpredictable nature of cryptocurrency values. We do not offer investment advice, and any participation in speculation is solely your decision and responsibility.

We do not guarantee stable returns. The market value of cryptocurrencies can impact your profitability. By using our Services, you assume full responsibility for your actions. We strongly advise you not to invest more than you can afford to lose and to make informed decisions regarding the use and participation in cryptocurrencies.

Taxation

The taxation of cryptocurrency transactions is uncertain, and you are responsible for determining the applicable taxes and how they apply when using our Services. You are obligated to pay and report any taxes arising from your use of the Services. You acknowledge that we do not provide legal or tax advice regarding these transactions. If you have any concerns about your tax status or obligations when using our Services, we recommend seeking independent advice.

You acknowledge that, in accordance with applicable law, Axiom may report information about transactions, transfers, distributions, or payments to tax or other governmental authorities, and may withhold fees related to your transactions. Applicable law may also require us to request additional tax information or documentation from you. Failure to respond timely to these requests may result in Axiom withholding taxes, which will be remitted to tax authorities in compliance with relevant legislation. It is advisable to seek professional and personal tax advice concerning digital asset transactions before engaging in such activities.

Service Availability

We do not guarantee that Axiom's Services and those of our affiliates will be available at all times or that Axiom's Services and those of our affiliates will be free from unplanned outages or network congestion.
